Mission Statement: To provide an emotionally safe environment where every child is a leader, proactive leaders can achieve unlimited potential, Christian values are reinforced and students develop into lifetime leaders.

“Ivy Hall provides a safe environment that has given our son confidence to grow and love learning. Because of this, the world is opening up to him and he is confident and excited to pursue it.”

This parental comment is common at Ivy Hall, where students experience “learning to grow on”. Saxon Math and Phonics give students a solid foundation to build on. Hands-on Science, an online computer lab and “Copy the Masters” art program provide a well-rounded experience.

Small classes allow individual attention from caring teachers. A combination of advanced learning and solid values enhance each child’s development. Parents trust Ivy Hall to deliver the finest education encompassing prayer, the Pledge, a comprehensive curriculum and a safe environment.

Ivy Hall’s current focus on the Covey Leadership Program helps produce students who are able to make wise decisions, interact successfully with others and confidently face life’s experiences.

“When I walked in the door there was a wonderful feeling! I wanted my children to learn in this environment,” another parent says.

Founded in 1988 by James Lindahl, the school has benefitted thousands of students. Many have known Mrs. Susan Kirby, the Director for the past 20 years. Ivy Hall connects students to our community with winter skiing at Sundance and a monthly service project.

Ivy Hall Academy encourages you to come visit. They’re sure you’ll find that the things that are important to you are important at Ivy Hall.
